PHILADELPHIA.

MUSIC.

The science of music has been a continual and a constant theme of admiration, with all the poets, philosophers and philosophers, since the invention of the art, more particularly since the combination of notes and figures were successfully arranged.

At the Philadelphia Theatre, on the 29th ult., the science of music was the subject of a performance, which was attended by a large number of persons, and the talents of the performers were highly appreciated.

Animated by the purest principles of benevolence, we find he yields his talents to the service of the cause of humanity, and the only person who has been able to do this in the country, assists him upon this noble mission.

The Involuntary Court, which commenced its session on the 29th ult., has, as we understand, terminated its proceedings, after discharging upwards of one hundred applicants for the Benefit of the Involuntary Court.

WOOD has been selling at our wharves, within a few days, from eight to eleven dollars per cord—and we fear that it will be still higher should the river continue closed.

JERSEY MARKET.—The City Councils have passed an Ordinance for rebuilding the Market House in High Street, between Front and Second Streets.

About forty of the desperadoes connected in the recent burglaries, and other outrages, in the city and neighbourhood of Philadelphia, have been apprehended and committed for trial.

Notwithstanding the letters said to have been received from our Consul at Liverpool, asserting the existence of a Commercial treaty with France, there is no truth in the report.

MORE PIRACIES.

It is stated in a late New Orleans paper that 70 of the pirates belonging to the vessels captured and destroyed by the United States Ship Enterprise, have erected two forts on Cape Antonio, in the defence of the island.

On Thursday night, about 12 o'clock, as the Union Coach line was coming to the city from New-York, the foot-board suddenly gave way, when the driver and an outside passenger were precipitated to the ground, and the horses went on.

On Tuesday afternoon, the remains of the Orphans, who perished in the fire of the Asylum, were buried in the ground adjoining to the Independent Tabernacle, in Cherry-street.

The Messrs. Barings of London, have several extensive engagements on hand.—These two gentlemen married the daughters of the late Mr. Bingham, whose estate was said to be five millions of dollars.

ROBERT.—A few days since, a young man, named St. Giles, had the nose of his nose cut off.

It is shown about among the liberals at Paris, that the young Napoleon, with the aid of Montheol, rolling behind in seen bodies of armed men, is written in the ball.

Hill Times mentions, as one of the recent cold weather, two boys, who froze to such a degree that they were entirely divested of their contents!!

In a Boston paper, that a man, who fell out of bed, and from the height of the 5th ult.

CONGRESS.

On Tuesday last, Mr. Colder, of New-York, presented to the House of Representatives of the United States, a Memorial from the "American Convention for promoting the Abolition of Slavery, and improving the condition of the African race," praying Congress to prohibit involuntary servitude in the newly acquired territories of Florida; which was referred to the committee of the whole to whom is referred the bill for the government of said territory.

On Wednesday the Senate had under discussion the bill to confirm the title of the Marquis of Maison Rouge to a tract of country (thirty square acres) west of the Mississippi on the Washita, which he held under a Spanish grant.

In the house of Representatives, after several ineffectual efforts to change the ratio of Representation from 40,000, the Apportionment Bill was passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence—Ayes 100—Nays 58.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

The bill incorporating the Lehigh Navigation Company, with certain amendments has passed the Senate.

The Legislature have increased the salary of the associate Judges of the Court of Common Pleas in Philadelphia, from 200 to $400 annually.

A report has gone the rounds of the newspapers, that General Izard has been nominated by the President to the Senate, for the office of Governor of Florida. This is not only not true, but General Izard has not, in any quarter, been spoken of as a candidate for the office.

We are requested by the Pennsylvania Delegation, to state, that the intimation, in a Philadelphia paper, that "the Pennsylvania Delegation in Congress have appointed two of their body to proceed to Harrisburg," is destitute of foundation.

The duty accruing on foreign merchandise imported into Boston in 1831, was nearly four millions of dollars.

Capt. Steinhaver, of the ship Brandt, arrived at New-York, in 60 days from Rochelle, has brought despatches for our government.

A slight shock of an Earthquake was felt at Bangor, Maine, between 12 and 1 o'clock on Monday night, last week.

CURIOUS FACT.—The Assembly of Ohio, consists of 102 members, not one of whom are native of that State.

ORPHAN ASYLUM.

There is no one who does not sympathize in the late awful calamity, which deprived so many orphans of a home. Every one has believed, that it is an institution formed to protect and rear up children bereft of parents. Those, indeed, who have been admitted into the Asylum, came under this denomination; but with circumstances attending, which have shut out more than three times the number that were under the charge of the society previous to the conflagration of the building.

My intention is to make it a general institution, and not to be confined to a few individuals gifted with health and strength. No child who is the least crippled or disordered will be received. They must possess the full vigour of life, and unattended by any seated complaint.

While the Society looks up to the citizens for support, let it be extended to all classes and conditions of children.

I am not unsupported while I make this declaration that the Society is restricted to the conditions which I have stated. A Guardian of the Poor applied for the admission of a certain number of children entirely destitute of friends: the Managers refused their admission, with the exception of five, for whose board the Guardians had to pay. It might be answered that their funds were not sufficient—I will grant it—But to whom did they look for support? The Public. Well, since the Public supports it, the Managers should receive every orphan child that is applied for.

I am aware that I may offend a great number of persons by thus attempting to dampen the ardour of the charitable, to revive their funds. I wish to be understood to the contrary. I hope, sincerely, the Asylum may be rebuilt on a larger scale, and that it be made truly an Asylum for the Orphan.

[For the Saturday Evening Post.]

The answers to my first enigmas, (now conundrums) appears in the manner they are placed in your last Saturday Evening Post, to be the guess work of your correspondent. Now, in order to place their ingenuity beyond a question, apprise them, that their solutions will not appear, unless accompanied by the rule, from which their deductions were derived. As it respects one of your correspondents, his solutions bear no analogy to an illustration.

H. B. H.

[The Enigmas addressed to the Medical Students of the University of Pennsylvania, have been deferred until next week.]

COMMUNICATION.

UNION CANAL LOTTERY.—The new series is a very novel and popular scheme, and affords to the adventurer an early opportunity of deciding his claims at the Wheel of Fortune. On the 12th of February, which is but two days off, the drawing will commence, and be finished in FIVE MINUTES! For lucky numbers apply at GOODWIN'S OFFICE, at the N. E. corner of Third and Walnut streets, or of P. CANFIELD, No. 127 Chestnut street.

It affords us much pleasure to announce, the appointment of the hon. John Jay, president of the American Bible Society. And on the 10th inst. the satisfaction also to state, that this venerable and distinguished patriot and christian, has accepted the appointment.

A Chrysanthemum—A Cotton Plant, in full bloom, was imported at Liverpool in the Belvidera, Hobson, 21 days from Charleston.

MATHEMATICS.

Gentlemen—Having seen the question of your subscriber, of the 2d inst. I offer the following as a solution, which I believe will be found correct—and if the publication thereof in your excellent miscellany will at all subserve your interest, or gratify your correspondent, it is at your service. I am yours, &c.

JOHN D. WESTON,

Teacher of Mathematics, 83 Union st.

As per question, we must suppose a tangent and secant drawn from the Surveyor's eye to the Earth, then 3983 miles = to 7013600 yards + the height of the eminence = 7013600 yards the secant: then as the secant 7013600 : radius 7013600 :: radius 7013600 : cosine 7013600 : 0.009128; then radius = cosine = 29.999872 the versed sine, or altitude of the globular frustum, bounded by tangents drawn from the eye, the superficies of which is the earth's circumference = 44067351.52 X the altitude of the frustum, and ÷ 4840 = 273146 acres 2 rods 27.92 perches.

Solution of the Conundrums that appeared in last Saturday's Post.

DRAMATIC SUMMARY.

It is to be expected that the erection of the New Theatre in Chestnut street, will be immediately put into operation, Mr. Strickland, the architect, who had been written to, during his tour through Europe, to expedite his return, having just arrived. Of the general architectural knowledge of this gentleman it is useless to say one word; of his scenic and theatrical designs, those who are associated with that business, know well how to appreciate him, that their movements have been determined alone by the period of his return.

WALNUT STREET.—Mr. Phillips's Concert for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum, takes place this evening at the Theatre. He will be assisted by Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Lefolle, and Messrs. Nichols and Jefferson.

PRUNE STREET.—The liberality of the citizens of Philadelphia needs no comment; they have been ever ready to patronize those who seek to add to their amusements, and to foster the genius of their own soil when it offers itself in an unquestionable shape. Modest merit, certainly, should never be chilled by neglect—though, unfortunately, it too often happens, that the presuming adventurer snatches the hard-earned laurels from his less-deserving adversary, and bears them off in triumph. Mr. Porter's benefit is announced for this evening. The claims of this gentleman need not be told; we know he is deservedly a favourite at the Prune street Theatre—and being an American, we have no reasonable idea to suppose, those claims will be lessened in the public estimation. On a former night, Mr. Porter waived his pretensions when it was intended by the other House to appropriate their proceeds for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum. Something similar has again occurred, but now it cannot have an effect prejudicial to his interest, as the sums already collected are an equivalent to the necessities of this institution. See the advertisement in this evening's Post.

CINCINNATI.—The Deaf and Dumb, (Julio by Mrs. Drake and the Children of the Wood, were performed, on the 28th ult. for the benefit of Mrs. Jones.

HARRISBURG.—The representations on Thursday evening were, Forty Thieves and Animal Magnetism. This evening they are The Poor Gentleman, and a variety of singing.

NEW-YORK.—On Monday last, the 4th inst. was presented at this theatre the most magnificent spectacle, perhaps ever exhibited in any theatre in America. It was a representation of the procession formed at the coronation of George IV. preceded by the Herb woman, and consisting of all the pageantry, &c. &c. to the number of about 200, accompanied with various instruments of music, together with all the insignia used on that striking occasion.

BOSTON.—Eudine, and the Actress of All-Work were announced on Monday evening last, on which occasion Mrs. BARNES made her first appearance in an engagement which is to terminate her representations in that town, being on the eve of her departure for England.

FOREIGN.—In the True Briton we find a critique on Mr. KEAR, who performed at Drury Lane in the tragedy of Othello. It is said his performance bore evident marks of improvement; but while he sunk to transcendent excellence in some parts, he sunk even to lame mediocrity in others. He took some liberties with the text, to which the audience was not reconciled.

MARRIED.

On Thursday evening, Jan. 31st, by the Rev. George C. Potts, Mr. SOLOMON CARTMELL, of Winchester, Virginia, or Miss EMY IVEISON, daughter of Mr. George Burk, of this city.

EPITAPH ON A MR. PECK.

Here lies a Peck, which some men say,
Was first of all a Peck of clay;
This wrought with curious skill while fresh,
Became at length a Peck of flesh.
Full sixty years Peck felt life's bubble,
Till death reliev'd this Peck of trouble.
Thus fell poor Peck as all things must;
And here he lies—a Peck of dust.

EPITAPH

On a gentleman who never paid his Debts.
Underneath this stone is laid,
Dick Scourvy, aged just two score;
A week ago, a debt he paid,
A thing he never did before;
And one he never will do more.

Spike and Span.

This is a very common expression, applied to any thing quite new, but the words appear to want explanation. The most obvious derivation is from the Italian, spicata de la shanna, fresh from the hand, or, as we say in another proverbial phrase of our own, "fresh from the mint." There are numerous Italian words in our language, which were brought in before the Reformation, when it was not only customary for our young men of family to complete their studies in that country, but many Italians resided here as collectors of the papal imposts, or as holders of our best benefices. This certainly is a more rational etymology than that which derives the phrase from a spear, because the head of that weapon was formerly called a spike, and the staff a span; thereby meaning that every part is new.

My Eye Betty Martin.

This is a vulgarism to be met with only in low companies, though it has sometimes been transplanted from thence, and introduced into noble and even princely mansions. It is an expression of contempt and defiance, when a person is not to be convinced or satisfied with anything that is said in the way of explanation, in opposition to which the indignant sceptic is apt to exclaim: "Tis all my eye Betty Martin." Of these strange and apparently unmeaning words the following appears to be a correct definition. A man going once into a church or chapel of the Romish persuasion on St. Martin's day, heard the Latin Litany chanted, when the words "Mibi Beate Martin" occurred so often, that upon being asked how he liked the service, he replied it was nothing but nonsense or something worse, as from beginning to end "it was all my eye Betty Martin."

A curious cause of War.

In the year 1005, some soldiers of the commonwealth of Modena, ran away with a bucket from a public well, belonging to the state of Bologna. The implement might be worth a shilling, but it produced a quarrel, which was worked up into a long and bloody war. Henry the king of Sardinia, for the emperor Henry, the second, assisted the Modena to keep possession of the bucket; and in one of the battles he was made prisoner. His father, the emperor, offered a chain of gold that would encircle Bologna, which is seven miles in compass, for his son's ransom; but in vain—After twenty-two years imprisonment, and his father being dead, he pined away and died. His monument is still extant in the church of the Dominicans. This fatal bucket is still exhibited in the tower of the cathedral of Modena, enclosed in an iron cage. Tasso has very humorously described it in his Della Secchia.

The reader may not have remarked, that in the world abstemious, the five vowels of the alphabet stand in their grammatical order—a, e, i, o, u. The word facetious presents the same accidental singularity; and facetiously brings in the y.

It is calculated that the number of deaths in the United States, produced directly by intemperance, amounts to about 30,000 annually; but the number whom it destroys indirectly, is much greater, say 100,000.

A large assortment of GOAT SKINS is expected shortly, on consignment.

Being brought up to the Tanning and Currying he considers himself a judge of Leather and Hides. He will also receive SHOES to sell on Commission. All which will be attended to with fidelity.

LOTTERY PROPOSAL.

AS an experiment in the New Union Canal Lottery, first class, first series, the subscribers have formed several Clubs of from ten to twelve tickets each, being divided into as many shares, at $3.50 cents each share, and as they are aware that in an untried scheme, an evidence of their own confidence in the plan should be given, they guarantee and pledge themselves, that in the event of extreme ill luck, in not drawing high prizes, no subscriber to a single share, shall be a loser in a sum exceeding two dollars, as in such case should their loss exceed the amount one cent, it shall be refunded out of the money paid for the tickets, so that for the trifling risk of $2, a subscriber has an equal share in a Club of 10 or 12 tickets, which will be a capital chance for the capital prizes; we believe we need not be more explicit, as every man of sense will perceive that he cannot lose more than two dollars, and for that sum has a chance for all the High Prizes in the Lottery—but to put it beyond a doubt, no Club willing to leave the Tickets in our possession, shall be required to pay more than two dollars on each share of the club at the time of subscribing, when a list of the numbers will be delivered; and on next Tuesday week, 12th instant, the day fixed for the drawing, whatever amount may be drawn to the numbers of each Club, over and above the balance due on the tickets, shall be paid in Cash, with promptness and pleasure.

BALM OF COLUMBIA.

An important recent Chemical discovery. THE ladies and gentlemen of this city and elsewhere, are respectfully informed, that John Oldridge has fortunately discovered, by the power of chemistry, the grand desideratum of preventing Hair from falling off in FORTY-EIGHT HOURS. This balm will most absolutely, in the course of a short time, make the Hair grow healthy and thick. J. O. is well aware that many fraudulent and injurious Oils, &c. have been imposed on the public, and therefore prides himself on being the discoverer, and that trial shall convince his patrons that such a thing exists in nature as a certain preventive against the loss of hair. This valuable balm will cause whiskers and beards to grow rapidly. No danger need be apprehended to the human system by the application of this capillary restorative. The public may rest assured that it helps nature, and is perfectly harmless.

Prepared and sold, at $1 a pint, or 50 cents for a half pint bottle, by JOHN OLDIDGE, No. 53 1/2 South Front street, Philadelphia.
RECOMMENDATION.
WE, the undersigned, do hereby certify, that we have, in various cases, used the Balm of Columbia, lately discovered by John Oldridge, of Philadelphia, and have found it highly serviceable not only as a preventative against the falling off of hair, but also as a restorative. We, therefore, feel assured of its excellence, and consider it valuable and well worthy the attention of the public. In testimony whereof, we have added our respective signatures, and given it our warmest recommendation.
Abraham A. Robinson, 55 South Front street.
Charles W. French, 1 Taylor's Alley, S. Front st.
John Cook, 35 Penn street.

FOR SALE, OR RENT,

Or would be exchanged for Property in Philadelphia.

A HIGHLY VALUABLE TANYARD AND FARM, situated in the Township of Uchlan, in the county of Chester, state of Pennsylvania, five miles from Downingtown, three from the Yellow Springs, half a mile from the Conestoga turnpike road, and thirty miles from Philadelphia. Adjoining lands of John Boidlar, George Stitelar, and others, containing seventy-seven and an half acres, of the first quality land; a good proportion of which is woodland and meadow, the remainder in grass, divided into small fields with chestnut rail fence.

The buildings are in good order, consisting of a large two story Stone Dwelling House, with two rooms and an entry on the first floor, and four rooms on the second—a stone barn and spring house over a never failing spring, and a frame wagon house—Also a stone tannery with log stabling. There is a good apple orchard, together with a number of bearing peach, plum, cherry, and other fruit trees.

The Tanyard contains sixteen laying-away vats, with the necessary proportion of lime, hand-lers, &c. The buildings are a beam house, handling shed, currying shop, mill house, and a large bark house, 60 by 30 feet. Three bark mills, two of which are turned by water, and one completely calculated to grind bark for exportation, in a neighborhood that abounds plentifully with bark, and is perhaps excelled by none in the county, as a retailing establishment.
